

Mission Buniyaad: A Transformative Educational Initiative in Haryana

Balwant Singh, Research Scholar, Department of Education, Chaudhary Devi Lal University, Sirsa
Prof. (Dr.) Raj Kumar, Department of Education, Chaudhary Devi Lal University, Sirsa

Abstract

After independence, various educational programs and initiatives such as Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, Skill India Mission, Rashtriya Madhyamik Shiksha Abhiyan, and Beti Bachao Beti Padhao have brought revolutionary changes to the Indian academic structure. These initiatives have played a crucial role improving accessibility, quality, and capacity enhancement across different educational levels. Mission Buniyaad is an educational initiative launched in Haryana, India, in 2022 by the Government of Haryana in collaboration with the Vikalpa Foundation Trust. The program aims to enhance foundational learning and prepare marginalized students in government schools for national-level competitive examinations. This research paper explores the background, objectives, program structure, selection process, and impact of Mission Buniyaad while analysing its role in bridging the educational gap for economically disadvantaged students. The study highlights how the initiative implements E-learning strategies, personalized coaching, and holistic development approaches to create an inclusive and effective learning environment.

