

Teacher Responsibilities in the 21st Century

Sunil, Assistant Professor, Govt College Bhuna

Abstract

The role of teachers in the 21st century has evolved significantly due to technological advancements, educational policy changes, and the increasing focus on holistic student development. This research paper explores modern teacher responsibilities, including student-centered learning, technology integration, social-emotional support, and inclusivity. It presents multiple case studies showcasing best practices worldwide and discusses challenges faced by teachers. The paper concludes with recommendations to enhance teaching strategies and policies for contemporary education.

